

Here's What You'll Do:

As a Senior Environmental Project Manager/Licensed Site Professional (LSP) with Civil & Environmental Consultants, Inc. (CEC), you will be responsible for managing current clients and developing new business, as well as managing projects, mentoring junior staff, and providing senior direction on a variety of projects for real estate, manufacturing, industrial, governmental, waste management and energy clients.

Here's What You'll Need:

- BS in Geology, Environmental Science or Civil/Environmental Engineering (MS a plus);
- Massachusetts Licensed Site Professional (CT LEP a plus);
- 10-20+ years applicable experience in hazardous waste site investigation/remediation;
- Proven business development and client management experience required;
- Ability to speak and write professionally, including experience with the preparation of regulatory submittals under the Massachusetts Contingency Plan (MCP);
- Demonstrated experience managing multiple projects, budgeting and cost control;
- Demonstrated experience supervising technical and administrative staff;
- Strong leadership, team building, and interpersonal skills.

Here's What We'd Like to See:

- Experience with characterization of soils and groundwater at RCRA, CERCLA, and Brownfield sites, as well as developing remediation strategies;
- Experience developing, managing, and/or performing due diligence, regulatory compliance and environmental management system audits;
- Phase I/II environmental assessments for real estate development;
- Site investigation/remediation under state voluntary programs and RCRA Corrective Action;
- P.E. or P.G.;
- Environmental compliance experience (spill response plans, water/waste permitting, compliance audits, etc.);
- Existing client connections.

Here's Why You Should Join Us:

CEC is consistently ranked as an ENR Top 500 Design Firm.
