

Staff Scientist/Engineer

Lord Associates, Inc. has an opening available for a degreed environmental scientist, geologist and/or engineer in our Norwood office. Candidates should have at least one year's experience performing field work including sampling and drilling oversight in support of property and hydrogeologic assessments. This is primarily a field support position, however, knowledge of the Massachusetts Contingency Plan (MCP) regulations, strong report writing, communication and computer skills are required as this is a growth position leading to project management. Our employees enjoy the benefits of working with a small group of highly experienced professionals on a variety of projects. Local travel requires driver's license. OSHA 40-hour HAZWOPER and AutoCAD training a plus.

Benefits

We offer competitive compensation and a comprehensive benefits package, including health, life and disability insurance, Simple IRA Retirement plan including employer match, paid vacation/holidays, and professional development resources.

Please send resume and letter of interest to Pam Glidwell, Office Administrator at Pglidwell@Lordenv.com.
