Training will be provided. Responsibilities will include but are not limited to: assisting with state certifications, proficiency study handling and reporting, data quality assessments, internal and external audits, maintaining standard operating procedures, employee quality and data integrity training documentation, corrective action and root cause determination, and data and report review.

Applicant will be sitting and standing throughout the shift, working with computers and a variety of software. Personal protective gear will be provided and required whenever necessary; candidate may at times perform work in a laboratory setting, where a variety of chemicals and environmental samples which may have strong odors and fumes will be present. Must be able to lift up to 30lbs., some lifting and crouching may be required.

BENEFITS

We're an employee-oriented essential business that seeks to work with our workers' needs and create a thriving, welcoming environment for every individual. Inner-company growth is common and comprehensive benefits including:

- Health, Vision, Dental, and Life Insurance,
- 401(k) opportunities,
- Long and Short-Term Disability,
- Generous PTO and leave policies,
- A Flexible Spending Account,
- A Health Reimbursement Account,
- Gym Membership,

and more, ensure that employees are taken care of in and outside of the workplace!

QUALIFICATIONS

A bachelor's degree in Chemistry, Environmental Science, Biology, or a closely related Science field is required. The candidate must also possess at least three years of environmental laboratory experience along with a knowledge of organic and inorganic environmental methods and quality systems. Experience in environmental laboratory QA/QC is preferred.

SALARY

Commensurate with experience.

Phoenix Labs utilizes an "employee-first" mentality; we work to ensure that every voice is heard, employees are as comfortable and happy as possible, and that each individual is provided the conditions they need to work safely and efficiently- we're more than willing to adjust one's position as needed. If you are interested in joining our team long-term and growing alongside us, please contact Kathy Letourneau at kathy@phoenixlabs.com! Applicants with temporary work availability will not be considered at this time.
