

Join The Vertex Companies (VERTEX) as a Senior Environmental Project Manager and take a lead role on some of New England's most high-profile environmental assessment and remediation projects. Based in Braintree with a flexible hybrid schedule, this position offers the opportunity to work with top developers, attorneys, and public agencies while delivering complex, technically challenging work that truly makes an impact. As a senior leader, you'll drive projects from strategy through execution, mentor talented professionals, and build trusted client relationships - backed by a collaborative, growth-oriented team at a global consulting firm known for quality and integrity.

If you're an experienced environmental engineer, scientist, or project manager who thrives on ownership, client engagement, and delivering results, VERTEX offers the platform to elevate your career. You'll manage multidisciplinary investigations and remediation efforts, shape scopes and proposals, ensure regulatory compliance, and help grow a respected practice - while enjoying a culture that values learning, urgency, collaboration, and meaningful work. This is an ideal role for a motivated professional ready to combine technical excellence with leadership and long-term career growth.
